Best Ever

By: Jan Stiles (Sep 1, 2008)

What a fun place to visit. To all of you reading this review, Stone Road Eco Farmony has the most tender leaf lettuce I have ever tasted. I cannot say enough about the tomatoes, garlic, beets, cabbage and the amazing honey. I highly recommend you stop by this farm and try their produce and their honey. By the way, my cats love the peacock feathers.

comment: We love this service. Each week we get a ton of fresh vegetables for a reasonable up-front price. Now we eat a lot healthier. We puree some of the veggies for baby food for our infant (he loves them), and we get so many vegetables we can't eat them all in one week so we put them away in the freezer for later.

This is MUCH better than going to the Farmer's Market because he delivers veggies we wouldn't normally buy, and I've learned how much I actually like radishes (braized radishes...mmmm) and turnips. Tom also offers preparation suggestions for the veggies when he drops them off.

Definitely worth it.

Tom & Laura,

Just a shout out to let you know the garlic we got was the best I had ever had. It was crunchy, a wonderful touch to the pallet, not too hot and my girls loved it as well. Also the other food was great too and the honey has been a big hit.

It was great walking the farm and I look forward to our many conversations.

Thanks,

Shawn and family

Great Produce

By: David Schmitz (May 19, 2008)

My girlfriend and I have had awesome times on the farm with Tom and Laura. Their beets and potatoes are some of the best I've tasted. The pet 700lb pigs are just adorable (in a big way). When you visit the farm ask Tom or Laura if you could feed the pigs like we did and you are off to having a great time. We visited the thousands of bees and Tom showed us what he used the 918lbs of used starbucks coffee grounds for and then he showed us the largest windturbine. All in all what a great time we had, and we would highly recommend going to see the farm and signing up for a CSA farmshare. Even though it was great visiting the farm and we had a lot of fun while there, I must stress how impressed I am with how they grow their produce. IT IS A MUST TRY!!

I am looking forward to being one of their members for many years to come

Beautiful vegetables. Great people

By: Mary Sue (Aug 30, 2008)

I have been a vegetable lover for a long time, but I must say these vegetables and Tom and Laura make it even more enjoyable. Their vegetables are bright vibrant and full of flavor more so than other store bought products. Tom and Laura always have new ways to cook everything they grow. They are wonderful to talk to and to share information with. They are great resources for many eco-friendly / energy saving ideas. I have had a ball learning new recipes and getting more addicted to the vegetable life. I really like going to the farm and helping pick the vegetables or pluck weeds out. It is a clean, happy, eco-friendly and fun place to be. Don't miss out. You'll love them and the farm.

Thanks Tom and Laura your the best!
